

* Indicates Doctoral Student

Crystal S. (2013, February). Decreasing Inappropriate Use of Antipsychotic Medications in Nursing Homes. MEDNET webinar for state leaders on appropriate use of medications in nursing homes.

Quincy, R. & Battle, S. (2013, May). The Global Social Worker and Disaster Relief. Tsinghua University, Beijing, China.

Work Research in China and United States: Comparison and Innovation. Nankai University, Tianjin, China.

White, H.R. (2013, May). Substance Use during Young Adulthood. Invited presentation at A Workshop on Improving the Health, Safety and Well-being of Young Adults sponsored by the Institute of Medicine and National Research Council of the National Academies, Washington, DC.

* Indicates Doctoral Student
Maureen Braun-Scalera was appointed by Gov. Chris Christie to serve as the licensed clinical social worker on the New Jersey State Board of Social Work Examiners.

Maureen Braun-Scalera presented at the 8th annual conference of The Center for Child Advocacy, "The Forgotten Child: Multidisciplinary Approaches to Child Neglect," held earlier this year at Montclair State University.

Deborah Carr published an article examining self-esteem and weight, and was highlighted in New York Magazine. Dr. Carr also appeared on radio show, The Current, where she discussed “Chimpanzees, the midlife crisis and us.”

Brian Coleman was reelected to the University Senate for next year. He will be serving as a representative for non-tenure-track faculty members on the New Brunswick Campus.

Ericka Deglau and the Intensive Weekend MSW Program were recently featured in Rutgers Today. The article also profiled two MSW students, Cristina Melgarejo and Mark Halliday.

Antoinette Farmer was the plenary speaker at the 9th International Conference on Evaluation for Practice, held May 20-21, 2013 at the Chautauqua Institution, Chautauqua, N.Y.

Antoinette Farmer has the fourth most read article in the Journal of Social Service Research. The article, entitled "The effects of parenting stress, perceived mastery, and maternal depression on parent-child interaction," was published in 2011 and co-authored with doctoral student Sung Kyong Lee. With over 600 downloads, calculated based on the cumulative total of PDF downloads and full-text views, this article is being widely disseminated and is sure to have an impact on future research.

Antoinette Farmer has been named to the editorial board of the International Journal of Child and Adolescent Resilience. This peer-reviewed academic journal focuses on adolescent resilience factors, processes, and programming.

Andy Germak authored a letter to the editor, entitled “Help should be offered to [Hong Kong] parents,” which was published in South China Morning Post.

Andy Germak authored an editorial, entitled, “Time is ripe for social workers from China and U.S. to collaborate,” which was published in Global Times.

Andy Germak authored a letter to the editor, entitled “Ignoring addiction is ignoring dignity,” which was published in Financial Times.

Andy Germak authored a letter to the editor, entitled “Obama budget ‘taxes’ charities by limiting deductions,” which was published in The Star-Ledger.

Andy Germak authored a letter to the editor, entitled “ObamaCare’s mandate and employment consequences,” which was published in The Wall Street Journal.
Emily Greenfield was awarded a Rutgers Board of Trustees Fellowship for Scholarly Excellence. Dr. Greenfield was selected along with 11 other Assistant Professors across the university who were also promoted to Associate Professor this year.

Emily Greenfield was recently quoted in the article "How the Trailer Park Could Save Us All," which was published in Pacific Standard.

Emily Greenfield contributed to the article, “The Benefits of Aging in Place,” which was published in Kiplinger’s.

Christine James was awarded a Part-Time Lecturer Professional Development Fund Award for her to attend and present at the Southwestern Social Science Association Conference. Together with DuWayne Battle, Christine will present "Leadership Through a New Lens," which examines new ways of looking at leadership in the social work field with an emphasis on diversity and social justice.

Jeounghee Kim’s study examining the protective effect of higher education on divorce rates among white and African-American women was featured in The Huffington Post, PsychCentral and Futurity.org.

Mark Lamar and MSW Student Nathan Fishman were featured in My Central Jersey. The article, entitled "Self-help group grows its mettle," highlights Fishman's self-help group and its efforts to create a community garden.

Mark Lamar was honored by the Trenton-based community nonprofit, the Institute of Wonderful Women Working for Empowerment, at their Sunday Tea on May 19, 2013. Mr. Lamar is the recipient of the "Wind Beneath My Wings Award." Established by a group of African-American women, the Institute supports women who are training for careers in the healthcare industry by providing scholarships, computer technology assistance, and mentoring.

Mark Lamar authored an opinion column, entitled “Opinion: United Way of Greater Mercer County has lost focus in transition to program management,” which was published in The Times of Trenton.

Michael LaSala joined Amy Dickinson, who writes the advice column "Ask Amy," to respond to a 13-year-old boy seeking advice about coming out to his parents. Ask Amy is a nationally-syndicated column appearing in 200 newspapers and is published daily.

Michael C. LaSala’s exploratory study of African American gay youth and their families was highlighted by The Huffington Post, U.S. News and World Report, BET, and Windy City Media Group.

Michael LaSala contributed to the article "Coming out remains fraught with turmoil for kids, parents despite evolving attitudes," which was published in The Courier-Post.

MSW student Tiffany Mayers was awarded the 2013 Harriet Bloomfield Scholarship. The Harriet Bloomfield Memorial Scholarship Fund is dedicated to the memory of social worker Harriet Bloomfield.

Following the bombings in Boston, Judith McCoyd appeared on the Allan Loudell show on News Radio Delaware to discuss the experience of loss and grief.

Judith McCoyd was elected to Chairperson of the National Association of Perinatal Social Workers Nominations Committee.
Sarah McMahon's work on sexual assault and athletes was recently highlighted in The Huffington Post, WMNF, Tampa, FL, Wisconsin Public Radio and The Nation.

Shari Munch was approved for the Fulbright Specialist Roster, a list of candidates who are eligible to be matched with requests from overseas academic institutions for Fulbright Specialists. Munch was competitively selected and approved for the Roster by the J. William Fulbright Foreign Scholarship Board, the U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Education and Cultural Affairs, and the Council for International Exchange of Scholars.

Shari Munch served on the expert panel that developed the NASW Guidelines for Social Worker Safety in the Workplace. The guidelines are a resource to communities, private and public agencies, and local, state, and federal policymakers invested in creating a safer work environment for social workers.

Lenna Nepomnyaschy's work examining child support agreements was highlighted in the University of Chicago's School of Social Service Administration quarterly magazine.

Lia Nower contributed to the article, "The Growth of Legalized Gambling – A Professional Wake-Up Call," which was published in the March/April issue of Social Work Today.

Lia Nower contributed to The Star-Ledger article, "Saturday's $600M Powerball drawing is largest in game's history."

Judy Postmus was accepted to the prestigious HERS Summer Institutes, an intensive 12-day curriculum that prepares women faculty and administrators for institutional leadership roles. HERS (Higher Education Resource Services) Institute participants work with HERS Faculty and Alumnae to create development plans and networks needed for advancing as leaders in higher education administration.

Kathleen J. Pottick has been accepted into the 2012-2013 Leadership Academy in Aging. The academy is a nationwide, year-long executive training series for deans and directors of social work programs to build their leadership skills in the field of aging care. The Leadership Academy in Aging is part of an ambitious, multi-year strategy led jointly by the Social Work Leadership Institute (SWLI) at The New York Academy of Medicine and the National Association of Deans and Directors of Schools of Social Work (NADD), initially supported by the John A. Hartford Foundation, to grow the workforce of social workers who specialize in aging.

Kathleen Pottick was recently interviewed by China Philanthropy Times. The interview was conducted while she was in China with a delegation from the Huamin Research Center and a group of SSW students on a two-week study abroad trip. China Philanthropy Times is the main outlet for information to existing foundations and emerging NGOs in China, and has a circulation of approximately 1 million readers.

Cassandra Simmel was awarded a contract with the New Jersey Department of Children and Families contract for the project Needs Assessment of Adolescents involved with the Department of Children and Families & Impact of School Based Services on Middle School Youth.

Donna Van Alst, Carl Siebert and Natalie Aloyets Artel received the National Asthma Control Program Evaluation Award for their asthma partnership evaluation project. The award was presented by Dr. Paul Garbe of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention - National Center for Environmental Health.

William Waldman was awarded the 2013 Chauncey Alexander Lifetime Achievement Award at the Annual Institute of the Network for Social Work Management. This honor is the network's most prestigious award and reflects Waldman's passion and commitment to the social work profession, and his drive for excellence.

Liliane Windsor was selected by the Committee to Advance Our Common Purposes to receive a Human Dignity Award because of her extraordinary efforts to reduce prejudice and promote social justice as showcased by her work with the Newark Community Collaborative Board "Community Wise."

Liliane Windsor was selected to be a fellow for the HIV Intervention Science Training Program for Underrepresented New Investigators (HISTP) at the Columbia University School of Social Work and directed by Dr. Nabila El-Bassel. In addition to their training in intervention research, fellows will also will have an opportunity to participate in an ongoing seminar series.

Karen Zurlo's work was featured in an article, entitled “Older Patients tell Doctors: Charge it,” published on the website of the Center for Retirement Research at Boston College.

The Center for Nonprofit Management and Governance received an award from the state to continue the Rutgers AmeriCorps Healthy Futures Initiative. Since its inception in 2010, The Rutgers AmeriCorps Healthy Futures Initiative has provided over 70,000 hours of service to the community. This initiative promotes healthy lifestyles for residents of Camden through nutrition education, physical fitness and community gardening.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Funding Source</th>
<th>Project Title</th>
<th>PI Name</th>
<th>Amount</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>NJ Division of Mental Health and Awareness</td>
<td>Evaluation of Discharges from Hagedorn State Hospital Into the Community</td>
<td>Allison Zippay</td>
<td>$ 675,420</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NJ Department of Human Services</td>
<td>Family Success Center</td>
<td>Andrew Germak</td>
<td>$ 282,501</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>International Social Services - USA</td>
<td>International Family Finding and Training Judicial Partners</td>
<td>Carl Siebert</td>
<td>$ 9,203</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>American Cancer Society</td>
<td>Centered Medical Home</td>
<td>Dena O'Malley/Patricia Findley (mentor)</td>
<td>$ 40,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NJ Department of Human Services - DHMAS</td>
<td>Certificate Program in Community Based Programming</td>
<td>Douglas Behan</td>
<td>$ 49,794</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NJ Division on Aging Services</td>
<td>Aging &amp; Disability Resource Connection Sustainability</td>
<td>Karen Zurlo</td>
<td>$ 114,125</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robin Hood Foundation</td>
<td>RSSW Sandy Disaster Relief Initiative</td>
<td>Kathleen Pottick</td>
<td>$ 400,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Columbia University</td>
<td>Community Wise: Understanding the Process of Critical Consciousness Development</td>
<td>Liliane Windsor</td>
<td>$ 19,701</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NJ Department of Human Services</td>
<td>Evaluation of the New Jersey Screening, Brief Intervention and Referral to Treatment Grant</td>
<td>Nelson Peterson</td>
<td>$ 553,859</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NJ Department of Human Services - DHMAS</td>
<td>Social Network Analysis of State-Funded Prevention Agencies</td>
<td>Nelson Peterson</td>
<td>$ 41,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NJ Division of Mental Health and Addiction Services</td>
<td>Evaluation Support for Regional Coalitions</td>
<td>Nelson Peterson</td>
<td>$ 150,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rutgers School of Nursing (subcontract - HRSA is prime funder)</td>
<td>Inter-professional Collaborative Practice Model for Improved Patient and community Outcomes in an Urban Setting</td>
<td>Patricia Findley/Shari Munch</td>
<td>$ 21,575</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Price Family Foundation</td>
<td>Price Fellows Initiative</td>
<td>Ronald Quincy</td>
<td>$ 156,182</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NJ Department of Children &amp; Families</td>
<td>Youth Advisory Board/Youth Advisory Council/Conference</td>
<td>Ronald Quincy</td>
<td>$ 673,223</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beyond Diversity</td>
<td>LGBTQ Crime Victims Services Project</td>
<td>Sandra Moroso/Michael LaSale</td>
<td>$ 95,634</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Gerontological Society of America</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>$ 3,282,217</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>