

OASIS

A Rutgers faculty development program for academic women

Do you want to become a more effective leader, negotiator and personal advocate?

Do you need a fresh strategy to get your writing and research done?

Do you want to increase your connections to the academic community?

The Objective Analysis of Self and Institution Seminar (OASIS) is a semester-long program with approximately 25 female faculty participating in workshops, peer mentoring, and individual coaching – all of which accelerate their career development and advancement.

Spring 2019 New Brunswick Program

DATE	WORKSHOP	LOCATION
1/25	Leading and Collaborating Skillfully	116 ABC Conference Room Busch Student Center 604 Bartholomew Road
2/22	Academic Writing: Addressing Challenges and Creating Strategies for Success	116 ABC Conference Room Busch Student Center 604 Bartholomew Road
3/15	Get Recognized for Your Work: Strategies to Build Your Influence in Academia and Beyond	116 ABC Conference Room Busch Student Center 604 Bartholomew Road
4/12	Negotiation Skills for Work and Life	174 Conference Room Busch Student Center 604 Bartholomew Road
5/3	Navigating Competing Priorities	116 ABC Conference Room Busch Student Center 604 Bartholomew Road

9:30 a.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Coffee and lunch will be provided
Rutgers University – New Brunswick

Read More and Apply Here:

<https://academicaffairs.rutgers.edu/oasis-leadership-and-professional-development>